

Mission

To fund growing educational plans, classroom equipment, tuition assistance and other needs of the Upstate Christian Academy.

Your contribution to the Roger S. Strange Endowment for Christian Education is more of an investment than a donation.

Contributions are invested and continue to earn interest that is used to help support the Upstate Christian Academy, prevent the church's subsidy cost from rising and ensure quality Christian education "from Generation to Generation".

The Heritage of our school compels us to remain committed to the same high standards for future generations. We have created an Endowment fund to assure the school's continued existence, to fund tuition assistance, and a growing educational plan.

We invite you to be among the great supporters of our Endowment for Christian Education.

For Christian Education

Endowment For Christian Education

For more than 85 years the Seventh-day Adventist Church School, now the Upstate Christian Academy, has maintained an educational system in Greenville, South Carolina, that is marked by the highest standards.

The Roger S. Strange Endowment began helping the Upstate Christian Academy in 2002. During the many years that the Endowment has been active many students have been helped. More than $30,000 has been allocated to help the Upstate Christian Academy and its students. The Upstate Christian Academy is making excellent progress; for which we feel very proud to be part of.

The Endowment pledges to continue its support of Christian Education in our community with future gifts provided to students in need.
